

June 26th, 2015

FAO shows consequences of climate change on agricultural production

"Climate change and food systems" is the recent study by the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO). The work presents the findings of a group of scientists and economists, who took stock of the situation in the last two decades.

Source: ONU BR

Angola combat effects of climate change

The Ministry of Environment of Angola wants to reduce the problems caused by climate change in the country through the fight against drought, desertification and poverty in areas of agricultural production and farming.

Source: Agência Angola Press

USDA announces actions related to climate change

US Department of Agriculture (USDA) will adopt measures to adapt programs and operations promoted by the agency in relation to changes brought about by the weather.

Source: USDA

Technical planning saves agricultural production

Learn how you can grow food efficiently despite the impacts of climate change.

Source: Portogente

This newsletter is produced by CEAGESP Communication and Marketing Coordination

www.ceagesp.gov.br

f ceagesp.official

B ceagespoficial