

August 28th, 2015

Dear reader,

This edition of the newsletter CEAGESP Communication is fully devoted to preparations for the 29th Annual Congress of the World Union of Wholesale Markets. The reason is that the theme of this international meeting – "The environment and the future of wholesale markets" – is directly related to the purpose of our e-newsletter, which is to discuss how the effects of climate change influence the global agricultural production. Enjoy your reading!

Congress will bring major players in the supply sector

The 29th Annual Congress of the World Union of Wholesale Markets, which occurs between 23rd and 26th September, is the biggest event of wholesale food markets in kind in the world. The initiative, organized by the Brazilian Association of Wholesale Markets (ABRACEN), will bring the country the major players in the supply sector.

Source: ABRACEN

Environment is central topic of discussion

The attention to the impacts of climate change is present in the debates of Congress.

Source: WUWM

More than 200 registrations from 20 countries

The event has confirmed the presence of over 200 participants. Besides Brazil, the meeting will receive delegations from other 19 countries.

Source: CEAGESP

Join! Registrations are still open

There is still time to participate in the 29th Annual Congress of the World Union of Wholesale Markets. To know more about it, please contact us by email info@abracen.org.br. If you prefer, you can also register through the specific website of the event.

Source: 29th WUWM Congress in Campinas

This newsletter is produced by CEAGESP Communication and Marketing Coordination

